MANAGER COMMENTARY

March was dominated by the war in the Middle East, which started on the first weekend of the month, with a ceasefire then announced just after the end of the month. The sell-off in financial markets was very broad-based across both equity and bond markets. Evenlode UK Select fell -9.2% compared to a fall of -6.7% for the FTSE All-Share. The fund's lack of exposure to oil stocks was a significant drag on relative performance, with the sector rising approximately +20% during the month.

In terms of fund holdings, the most negative contributors to return were Unilever, Reckitt and Intertek. The oil price spike caused weakness in consumer stocks in March. Unilever also announced the planned combination of its Foods business with McCormick. While the transaction is complex, we see it as a logical step in Unilever's transformation into a faster-growing, higher-margin household and personal care business. Reckitt released strong full year results and while earnings guidance was slightly below market expectations, higher investment levels and strategic portfolio changes have set the group up for future earnings and cash-flow compounding. Despite slightly slower growth in the fourth quarter, Intertek delivered double digit earnings growth last year and expects 2026 to be another strong year.

The most positive contributors to return were Bunzl, Clarkson and Sage. Bunzl's full year 2025 results were broadly in-line with expectations, with improved performance at its US distribution business following operational issues last year. Clarksons reported solid results and management highlighted improved momentum at the end of last year has continued, with the Middle East war driving shipping rates higher. Sage's share price rose in March as investors continue to weigh the impact of generative AI technology.

In terms of portfolio changes, we reduced Halma which has performed strongly over the past year, leaving its valuation less attractive. We added to a variety of existing positions. This included niche engineering companies Rotork, Spirax, Smiths Group and Weir Group. Share prices fell back but these holdings are very well-placed to benefit from structural investment in areas such as power, water, energy security, energy efficiency and electrification.

We are clearly disappointed with the fund's relative performance since inception in May last year. The underlying companies though, remain resilient market-leaders that offer good long-term growth prospects and high returns on invested capital, and we strongly believe their qualities will be appreciated again by investors in due course. The aggregate portfolio continues to grow at a decent rate and spin off a huge amount of cash. The free cash flow yield stands at 6.4% for this year, with many holdings currently buying-back a significant quantity of shares at very attractive valuations.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE (ESG)

SAWAN WADHWA
Head of Stewardship

We believe that delivering real, durable returns over the long term is best achieved by integrating ESG factors into our risk management framework. This ensures that all long-term risks are continuously monitored and managed. In addition to considering ESG factors when making investment decisions, we engage with portfolio companies on various ESG issues, such as reducing greenhouse gas emissions. We view engagement with companies as an opportunity to understand their business context and gather more information about their risk mitigation and resilience strategies. Ultimately, our goal is to create long-term value for our clients by enhancing the sustainability characteristics of a company. However, we recognize that this requires time and a measured approach. Therefore, we set appropriate engagement objectives to stay focused and accurately monitor the results. Please note that the fund does not have a sustainability objective.

Stewardship Analyst

Voting & engagement

Evenlode voted with management at AstraZeneca’s most recent annual general meeting (AGM) as we were generally supportive of all the resolutions put forward. Interestingly AstraZeneca’s CEO, Mr Soriot, is known for consistently being one of the highest paid FTSE 100 CEOs. This has been an issue with some of the proxy advisory firms in the past, especially following the 2024 AGM whereby a new policy with increased quantum was proposed.

Our general view of management teams that manage UK-listed global companies - particularly in the pharmaceutical and healthcare sector - is that they should have the potential to earn a similar level of remuneration to their global US-listed peers. This is particularly important given the talent loss seen from several FTSE 100 companies over recent years to the US. With this in mind, we are comfortable with the quantum of pay for Mr Soriot and welcome the compensation committee’s changes of increasing the shareholding guidelines from 650% of salary to 1,150% to ensure the CEO’s pay is tied appropriately to the long term.

LILY POSTLETHWAITE
Stewardship Analyst

Our ongoing commitment

Evenlode is committed to measuring and publicly reporting our financed emissions; we look in detail at our investee businesses’ scopes 1, 2 and 3 carbon emissions figures annually (see links to Portfolio Emissions Report and Responsible Investment Report) . As the Evenlode UK Select fund only launched in May 2025, this analysis is yet to be published for the fund. At such point that the Evenlode UK Select fund has a sufficient track record we will report the GHG emissions associated with a £10k investment. We expect the Evenlode UK Select fund to be significantly less emission intensive than an equivalent investment made into the FTSE All-Share. This is a result of our sector allocation; we tend to avoid energy-intensive industries, and we have a bias towards asset-light businesses.

Evenlode UK Select is a sub-fund of the Evenlode ICAV. Full details of the Evenlode Funds, including risk warnings, are published in the Evenlode Funds Prospectus and the Evenlode Funds Key Information Documents (KIDs) which are available on request and at www.evenlodeinvestment.com. The Evenlode Funds are subject to normal stock market fluctuations and other risks inherent in such investments. The value of your investment and the income derived from it can go down as well as up, and you may not get back the money you invested. You should therefore regard your investment as long term. As a focused portfolio of between 30 and 50 investments, Evenlode UK Select carries more risk than a fund spread over a larger number of stocks. The fund has the ability to invest in derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (techniques used by investment managers to manage a portfolio in a way that aims to improve returns, reduce risk, or manage costs, without significantly changing the overall investment strategy or risk profile), which may restrict gains in a rising market. Investments in overseas equities may be affected by changes in exchange rates, which could cause the value of your investment to increase or diminish.
